

ELI-UNIDROIT & ERA Conference to be held in Trier (Germany) on 26-27 November 2018

On 26-27 November, a Conference entitled From Transnational Principles to European Rules of Civil Procedure will be held in Trier (Germany). This conference is being organised by the European Law Institute (ELI) and the International Institute for the Unification of Private Law (UNIDROIT), in cooperation with the Academy of European Law (ERA). As some of you may know, ELI and UNIDROIT are currently working on a joint project entitled "From Transnational Principles to European Rules of Civil Procedure." It builds upon an instrument produced jointly by the ALI (American Law Institute) and UNIDROIT entitled "Principles of Transnational Civil Procedure" and aims at the regional development of those Principles.

There are currently 9 working groups on different aspects of civil procedure, in addition to an overarching working group dealing with structure. For further information about the background of this project, click here.

As indicated on the conference's website: "[t]his public Conference aims at presenting the advanced results achieved by the project's current and former working groups. Participants of the Conference will have a chance to get a sense of the whole project as the work is drawing to an end. Members of the project as well as other esteemed experts in the field of civil procedure will present the achievements and challenges of the work of the respective working groups and stimulate a discussion on selected pressing legal issues in the area of civil procedure."
