

Reminder: Essay Competition in Private International Law 1st September Deadline

A short note to remind all that the deadline for the Conflict of Laws .net Essay Competition in Private International Law, sponsored by Clifford Chance LLP and Hart Publishing, is 1st September 2008 at 6pm.

There are substantial prizes for the top three entries, and the best essays will be submitted for consideration to the Journal of Private International Law. The Competition is open to any student of a higher education institution anywhere in the world, writing in English on any aspect of private international law.

See the competition page for the rules and submission details.