

Jurisdictional Immunities of the State: the ICJ to Deliver its Judgment in the Germany v. Italy Case

According to a press release, on 3 February 2012 the International Court of Justice will deliver its judgment in the case concerning *Jurisdictional Immunities of the State (Germany v. Italy: Greece intervening) (see our previous post here).

A public sitting will take place at the Peace Palace in The Hague, during which the President of the Court, Judge Hisashi Owada, will read the judgment. The public sitting will be broadcast live and in full on the Court's website (see Multimedia, in the Press Room section), from 10 a.m. local time.

At the end of the sitting, a press release, the full text of the judgment and a summary of it will be distributed. All of these documents will be made available at the same time on the Court's website, where all the documentation relating to the proceedings is accessible.
