

German Society of International Law: 34th Biannual Conference, March 11 to 14, 2015

From 11 through 13 March 2015 the German Society of International Law will hold its 34th biannual conference at the Justus Liebig University in Gießen (Germany). The conference will address two different topics: “Freedom and Regulation in Cyberspace” and “Identifying the Law between Source and Judicial Application”.

Further details are available (in German) at the conference website.