Virtual Workshop (in German) on June 1: Tania Domej on Cross-Boundary Collective Actions in the EU

Anniversary! On Tuesday, June 1, 2021, the Hamburg Max Planck Institute will host its 11th monthly virtual workshop in private international law at 11:00-12:30 – one year after the first such session! Since January of this year, we are alternating between English and German language. Tania Domej (Zurich University) will speak, in German, about the topic

Cross-Boundary Collective Actions in the EU

The presentation will be followed by open discussion. All are welcome. More information and sign-up here.

This is the eleventh such lecture in the series, after those by Mathias Lehmann in June 2020, Eva-Maria Kieninger in July, Giesela Rühl in September, Anatol Dutta in October, Susanne Gössl in November, Marc-Philippe Weller in December, Macjiej Szpunar in January, Dagmar Coester-Waltjen in February, Horatia Muir Watt in March, Burkhard Hess in April, and Marta Pertegás Sender in May. On July 6, we will host Hannah Buxbaum (Indiana University). Stay tuned!

If you want to be invited to these events in the future, please write to veranstaltungen@mpipriv.de