

Choice of Law in the American Courts in 2021: Thirty-Fifth Annual Survey

The 35th Annual Survey of Choice of Law in the American Courts (2021) has been posted to SSRN. The authors of this year's survey owe an enormous debt to Symeon Symeonides who has, over the past three decades, provided an extraordinary service by authoring the previous thirty annual surveys. Having now finished our first survey, we are all the more impressed with his work. Thank you Symeon — and thank you all for reading.

John Coyle (University of North Carolina School of Law)

William Dodge (University of California, Davis School of Law)

Aaron Simowitz (Willamette University College of Law)