

International commercial courts - a paradigm for the future of adjudication? - Online seminar - 14 July 2022

On July 14, 2022 an online seminar jointly organized by the Universities of Bologna, Milan and Verona (Italy) will provide a comparative perspective on the recent development of the setting up of specialized courts dealing with international commercial disputes.

All the information in the official poster.