

ASIL Private International Law Interest Group (PILIG) Newsletter and Commentaries on Private International Law (Vol. 5, Issue 2)

The American Society of International Law (ASIL) Private International Law Interest Group (PILIG) has just published its most recent Newsletter and Commentaries on Private International Law (Vol. 5, Issue 2). The primary purpose of the newsletter is to communicate global news on PIL. Accordingly, the newsletter attempts to transmit information on new developments on PIL rather than provide substantive analysis, in a non-exclusive manner, to provide specific and concise information that our readers can use in their daily work. These updates on developments on PIL may include information on new laws, rules and regulations; new judicial and arbitral decisions; new treaties and conventions; new scholarly work; new conferences; proposed new pieces of legislation; and the like.

Please see find the Newsletter and Commentaries in the attachment seen above.
