

Seminar series Crossroads in Private International Law

The Centre for Private international Law of the University of Aberdeen's Law School is continuing this year its series on Crossroads in Private International Law.

The aim of the series is to explore the intersection between Private International Law and substantive areas of law, with the outcome of featuring cutting edge interdisciplinary research carried out by the Centre members.

The format is hybrid, with presentations and room for discussion. Find out more and register for the individual events here; and sign up for selected seminars of for the entire series here.