Reminder: Quo Vadis Preferential Law Approach? A Survey on the Interpretation of Article 6(2) Rome I Regulation Across EU Member States

Benedikt Schmitz (University of Groningen) has kindly shared the following reminder of his Call for Participants with us.

The project concerns the interpretation of Article 6 (2) Rome I Regulation in the EU Member States and is very limited in nature. Time commitments are therefore very limited. Click here for more information.

We are still looking for scholars from Croatia, Czechia, Estonia, Finland, France, Ireland, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Romania, and Slovenia. Danish scholars may also participate on the basis of Article 5(2) Rome Convention.

The team currently consists of established scholars from 15 (former) EU Member States:

- Austria: Andreas Schwartze (Leopold-Franzens-Universität Innsbruck)
- Belgium: Cedric Vanleenhove (Universiteit Gent)
- Bulgaria: Ilia Lassin (Sofia University St. Kliment Ohridski)
- Cyprus: Nicholas Mouttotos (Universität Bremen)
- Germany: Benedikt Schmitz (Rijksuniversiteit Groningen)
- Greece: Kostas A. Rokas (Aristotle University of Thessaloniki)
- Hungary: Ferenc Szilágyi (Pázmány Péter Katolikus Egyetem Budapest)
- Lithuania: Katarzyna Bogdziewicz (Mykolo Romerio universitetas Vilnius)
- Netherlands: Benedikt Schmitz (Rijksuniversiteit Groningen)
- Poland: Anna Wysocka-Bar (Uniwersytet Jagiello?ski Kraków)
- Portugal: Anabela Gonçalves (Universidade do Minho)
- Slovakia: Dominika Moravcová (Trnavská univerzita v Trnave)
- Spain: Anna María Ruiz Martín (Universitat Oberta de Catalunya) & Beatriz Añoveros Terradas (Universitat de Barcelona)

- Sweden: Gunnar Bramstång (Lunds Universitet)
- UK: Ross Pey (Western University Ontario)

Interested in participating?

Contact Benedikt Schmitz through email: b.schmitz@rug.nl