Polish PIL 1926–2026 Conference in Cracow

Posted on behalf of Dr hab. Piotr Mostowik, head of the Jagiellonian University Centre of Private International Law, Poland

The Jagiellonian University invites scholars and practitioners to an international academic seminar entitled Current Issues of Private International Law: Comparative Perspective on Codification, Evolution of General Part, and Protection of Older Persons, to be held on Friday, 20 November 2026, at the Faculty of Law and Administration of the Jagiellonian University in Kraków, Poland.

The conference marks the centenary of the 1926 codification of private international law in Poland and provides an opportunity to reflect on developments in private international law from comparative and contemporary perspectives.

The conference will be held in a hybrid format, allowing participants to attend in person or online.

Date: Friday, 20 November 2026

Venue: Faculty of Law and Administration, Jagiellonian University, Kraków, Poland

Online participation: Join the meeting via Microsoft Teams

You can find the conference programme and further information here.

Online participation is free of charge and requires no additional registration.