

Workshop on Private International Law, Sustainability and Fashion

As part of the DFG- and AHRC-funded Fashion's PLACE project, there will be a workshop on Private International Law, Sustainability and Fashion at the Geneva Graduate Institute on 18 June 2026 (11:00-13:00 CEST), just prior to the EAPIL conference. The event will bring together perspectives from law, sustainability and the fashion industry, with short presentations and space for discussion. If you are in Geneva and interested in the intersection of private international law, circular economy and fashion, consider coming. No sign-up necessary.

The poster features a top section with a photograph of a white t-shirt hanging on a wooden hanger. A green tag with a white leaf icon is attached to the t-shirt. Below the photo, the text reads: 'WORKSHOP Fashion's PLACE Private (International) Law and Circular Economy Law. Sustainability. Fashion'. A central graphic shows a circular flow diagram with icons for a gear, a recycling symbol, a factory, a lightbulb, and people, all connected by dashed lines. The bottom section contains event details: '18 June 2026', '11:00 - 13:00 (CEST)', and 'Geneva Graduate Institute Room S5'. It also lists activities: 'Short Keynote Impulses from experts in law, sustainability and the fashion industry' and 'Room for exchange share perspectives, discuss challenges'. At the bottom, logos for the DFG, Arts and Humanities Research Council, Max Planck Institute for Comparative and International Private Law Hamburg, The University of Edinburgh Edinburgh Law School, and Geneva Graduate Institute International Law are displayed.
