

The Institute for Private International and Comparative Law, University of Cologne, Germany invites for applications for a

PhD Candidate and Fellow (wissenschaftliche/r Mitarbeiter/in) with excellent English language skills starting at the earliest possible date with 19,92 weekly working hours (50% position). The contract will first be limited to one year with an option to be extended. Payment is based on the German TV-L E13 scale if terms and conditions under collective bargaining law are fulfilled.

Your fields of activity:

- Support of the Institute's research and teaching
- Editorial support for academic texts

Your profile/skills:

- You hold a qualified law degree (ideally the First German State Examination)
- You are interested in private international law
- You have a very good command of German and English (English language skills on the level of a native speaker preferred)

The University of Cologne is an equal opportunities employer. Applications of women are especially encouraged. Disabled candidates will be given priority in case of equal professional qualification.

If you are interested in this position, please send your application (cover letter, CV, relevant documents and certificates, copy of law degree and university transcripts) to ipr-institut@uni-koeln.de by September 30, 2017.